Secure record of your valuables

For residents of jurisdictions we serve, LeadsOnline provides a system for maintaining secure records of property you own. You may store serial numbers, item descriptions, pictures, and scans of receipts so that your items may be easily identified in the event of theft or loss. This record may also come in handy when reporting any loss to your insurance provider.

Please note, you will not see any LeadsOnline law enforcement functions, and LeadsOnline is not searching for any property that may have been lost or stolen. Use this as an inventory system to provide to law enforcement agencies and insurance providers in the event of loss.
